About the TOEIC® Tests - Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing

This manual is intended for candidates preparing to take the TOEIC test. The TOEIC test can assess up to four English language skills: Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing. It can be administered on site or online with remote proctoring, on paper or on a computer.

Depending on the skills you will be taking and the method of administration, please refer to the relevant sections of the manual.

The TOEIC Tests are English-language proficiency tests for people whose native language is not English. They were developed to assess the English-language listening, speaking, reading and writing skills needed in the workplace and everyday life. TOEIC scores indicate how well a person can communicate in English with others in a business setting. The tests do not require specialised knowledge or vocabulary beyond that of a person who uses English in everyday workplace activities.

1. General regulations

A. Consent forms - test takers under 18 years old

On test day, test takers under 18 years of age need to bring a Consent Form completed and signed by a parent or guardian. See Consent Form at the back of this manual. Test takers under 18 who do not have a signed Consent Form will not be admitted to the testing room.

You can find the consent form in Appendix 3 on page 61 of this manual.

B. The identification document

- You must have acceptable and valid ID with a signature and photograph to be admitted to a test centre.
- The photograph on your ID document must be recent and recognizable. For example, a photograph taken at the age of 10 will not be accepted.
- Original documents must be presented; copies are not acceptable.
- Expired documents are not acceptable.
- If your primary identity document does not include a photograph or signature, you must present two government-issued identity documents without a signature.

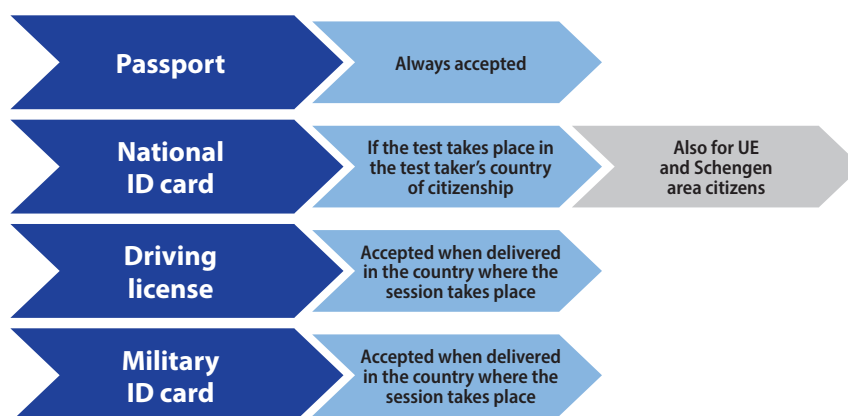

Identification requirements will be strictly enforced. You are responsible for knowing and understanding the instructions and obligations.

If you try to take the test without the required identification, the test administrator will not accept you, you cannot take the test, and you forfeit your test fee.

Acceptable primary identification documents

- Passport with photograph and signature
- Military identification with photograph and signature issued by the country where the test is being conducted
- Driver's license issued by the country where the test is being conducted, with photograph and signature

If you are taking the test in your country of citizenship, the National identification with photograph and signature is also accepted.

Other cases

Residents of the country where the test is being conducted with refugee status may present a government-issued resident card (not a paper document or letter, even if stamped and signed), with photograph and signature, where the status is clearly stated.

Testing in European Union/Schengen zone/Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) Arab countries or Mercosur countries

- If you are taking the test in one of these intergovernmental unions, you can present your valid national identity document issued within the same union.
- If your primary ID is not written in English-language letters, you must also present an additional ID from the list of secondary identification documents (see next paragraph) that contains a recent, recognisable photograph and is in English or the local language.
- The ID must show your name, a recent, recognizable photo, date of birth and signature.

If your primary ID does not contain your signature, you must either sign it or present an additional ID from the list of secondary identification documents (see next paragraph).

Acceptable secondary identification documents

If your primary identification is missing either a photograph or signature, you must present in addition to your primary ID one of the following secondary IDs that can be used to meet the photograph or signature requirement. Secondary IDs that can be used to meet the photograph or signature requirements are:

- A government-issued identification document that has not expired including, but not limited to, a passport, driver's license, state identification, national identification, or military identification. (There are some exceptions: see "Unacceptable Identification Documents" below.)
- Student ID

Unacceptable identification documents

- Any expired ID
- Draft classification card
- Credit or debit card of any kind
- Resident card (see exception in part 2.)
- Social Security card
- Learner's permit or any temporary identification document
- International driver's license
- International student ID
- Notary-prepared letter or document
- Employee identification card
- Birth certificate
- Photocopy of ID

C. The identification

Your identity will be verified in order to take the test.

When registering for the test, you must use exactly the same name that appears on the primary identification document you will present at the test. If the name shown on your primary identification does not match the name used at registration, you will not be permitted to take the test. Make sure to:

- Provide your entire first (given name) and entire surname (family name), do not register under a nickname
- Check the name on your registration confirmation document. If the name does not match the name on your primary ID document, contact your local ETS Preferred Network office.

A single misspelling of your name can be corrected at check-in, such as a reversed or omitted letter — name changes will not be made. If your name has changed for any reason, including marriage, you must still present primary identification in the name under which you registered, or you will not be permitted to take the test.

If the test administrator questions the ID you present, you will be required to present a secondary ID.

If confirmation of your identity cannot be made, you may be refused admission to the test and forfeit your test fee. Admittance to the test does not imply that your form of identification is valid or that your scores will be reported. All reported cases of questionable ID are subject to review and approval by the ETS Office of Testing Integrity and/or the local EPA.

If you cannot meet the specified ID requirements or if you have questions about the ID, please contact your organisation/academic institution or ETS Global before the test day.

D. Dismissal from test session

If you take the exam from home, the rules are just as strict as those at a test center. Failure to comply with these rules will invalidate your results.

A test administrator/supervisor is authorised to dismiss you from a test session and/or your scores may be withheld and ultimately cancelled and your test forfeited for any actions that violate the policies and procedures set forth herein and/or communicated at the test centre including, without limitation, the following:

- Attempting to take the test, or taking the test, for someone else or having someone else take the test for you
- Failing to provide acceptable identification as described herein, including refusal to allow a photograph
- Obtaining improper access to the test, a part of the test, or information about the test (this includes having test questions or answers in advance of the test administration and having prior knowledge of test information into the test centre in any form including, but not limited to, identification documents, prohibited devices, and any other method listed as an aid in connection to the test)
- Having a cell phone, smartphone (e.g., Android or iPhone), tablet, PDA, or any other electronic, listening, recording, scanning, or photographic device in the test centre (exception made for the device needed for the test). Refer to the section "2. Steps for taking the TOEIC Tests with remote proctoring".
- Any type of watch (classic, digital, connected, calculator, with alarm, etc.) is forbidden.
- Calculators, slide rules, rulers, compasses and protractors are prohibited.
- Creating a disturbance (Disruptive behaviour in any form will not be tolerated. The test administrator/supervisor has sole discretion in determining what constitutes disruptive behaviour.)
- Note-taking is strictly forbidden.

- Attempting to give or receive assistance (Communication in any form is not permitted during the test administration. Discussion or sharing of test content or answers during the test administration, during breaks, and after the test is prohibited.)
- Removing or attempting to remove test content from the test centre (Under no circumstances may test content or any part of the test content be removed, reproduced, and/or disclosed by any means [e.g., hard copy, verbally, electronically] to any person or entity.)
- Bringing a weapon or firearm into the test centre
- Bringing food, beverages, or tobacco into the testing room, unless you have received prior approval due to a disability or health-related need
- Leaving the test centre building during the test session or during breaks
- Leaving the testing room without permission
- Taking excessive or extended unscheduled breaks during the test session (Test centre administrators are required to strictly monitor unscheduled breaks and report test takers who take excessive or extended breaks.)
- Referring to, looking through, or working on any test or test section when not authorised to do so, or working after time has been called
- Failing to follow any of the test administration regulations in this examinee handbook, given by the test administrator/supervisor, or specified in any test materials

ETS Global reserves the right to take any and all actions — including, but not limited to, barring you from future testing and/or withholding or cancelling your scores — for failure to comply with test administration regulations or the test administrator’s directions or where the validity of the scores is questionable. If your scores are cancelled, they will not be reported, and your registration and test fees will not be refunded.

Score holds and cancellations

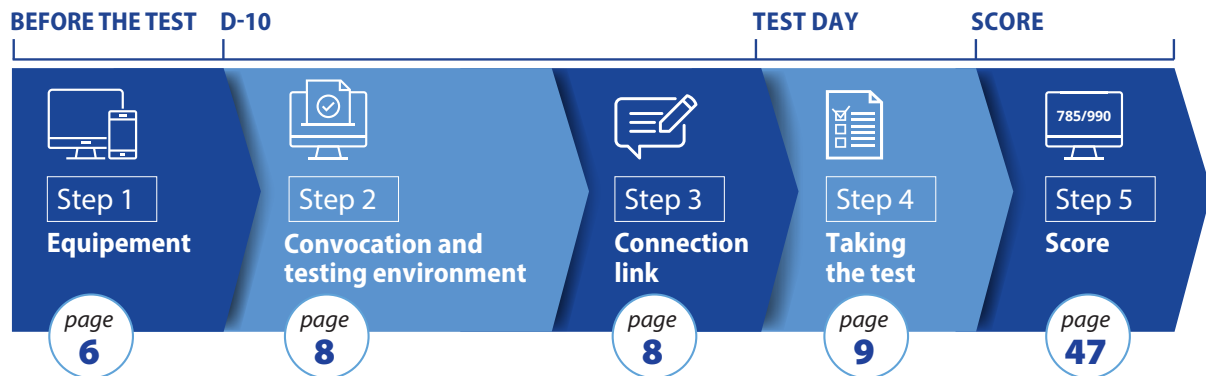

ETS and the local ETS Preferred Network office reserve the right to take any and all actions — including, but not limited to, barring you from taking any future ETS tests and/or withholding or cancelling your scores — for failure to comply with test administration regulations or the test administrator’s directions or where the validity of the scores is questionable. If your scores are cancelled, they will not be reported, and your registration and test fees will not be refunded. ETS and the local ETS Preferred Network office make every effort to report scores that accurately reflect the performance of every test taker. Accordingly, ETS standards and procedures for administering tests have two primary goals: to give all test takers equal opportunities to demonstrate their abilities, and to prevent any test taker from gaining an unfair advantage over others. To promote these objectives, ETS and the local ETS Preferred Network office reserve the right to withhold scores or cancel any test score when, in their judgment, a testing irregularity occurs, there is an apparent discrepancy in a test taker’s identification, a test taker engages in misconduct, a test taker attempts to use the work or ideas of others as his or her own in the essay section of the test, or the score is invalid for another reason. ETS and the local ETS Preferred Network office will also exercise their right to cancel any test score if they are unable to authenticate the results of any part of a test taker’s test. This includes, but is not limited to, the Speaking or Writing portion (for example, different voices or more than one voice within a Speaking test). Reviews of scores by ETS are confidential. When, for any of the aforementioned reasons, ETS or the local ETS Preferred Network office cancels a test score that has already been reported, score recipients are notified that the score has been cancelled, but the reason for cancellation is not disclosed except when authorised by the test taker or in certain group cases.

Testing irregularities

“Testing irregularities” refer to problems with the administration of a test. When testing irregularities occur, they may affect an individual or group of test takers. Such problems include, without limitation, administrative errors, such as improper timing, improper seating, defective materials, or defective equipment; improper access to test content; and other disruptions of test administrations such as natural disasters and other emergencies. When testing irregularities occur, ETS Global may decline to score the test(s), or may cancel the scores. When in their judgement it is appropriate to do so, ETS Global may give affected test takers the opportunity to take the test again as soon as possible without charge.

2. Steps for taking the TOEIC Tests with remote proctoring

Note: this chapter only applies to candidates taking the TOEIC tests with remote proctoring.

Important: before starting the test, please ensure that your testing environment meets the following requirements. See the section "Step 1: Equipment and technical requirements for taking the TOEIC tests with remote proctoring" on page 6 for more information.

Step 1: Equipment and technical requirements for taking the TOEIC tests with remote proctoring

To take the TOEIC tests with remote proctoring you must be equipped with a computer (the test cannot be taken on a tablet). Earphones are not allowed.

Here is all the information needed to check that you have the correct computer configuration.

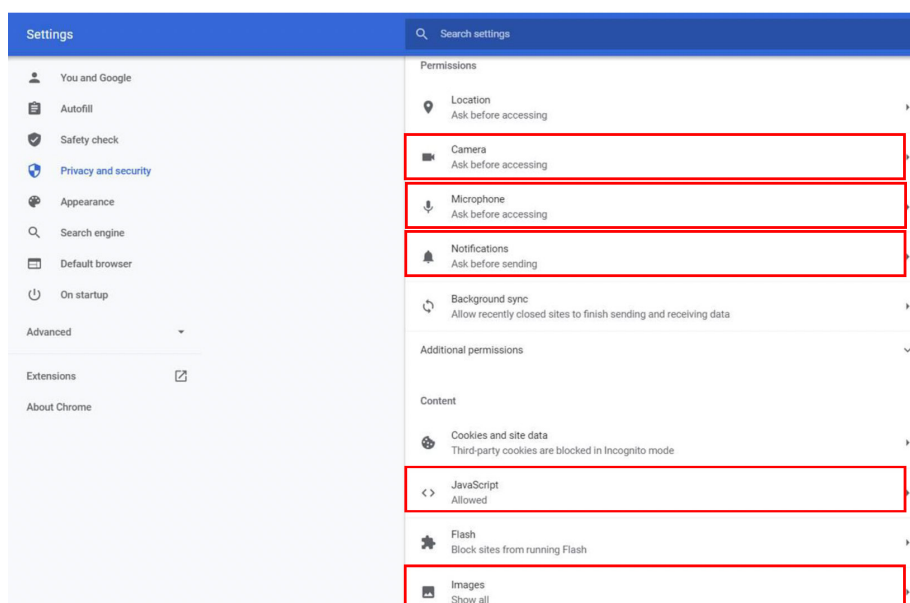

Computer

- Desktop or laptop computer. Tablets and Chrome Book are not supported.
- Windows 8 and higher, Mac OS X and higher, the latest version of Google Chrome and most Linux distributions (64-bit Ubuntu 14.04+, Debian 8+, openSUSE 13.3+, or Fedora Linux 24).
- Secondary monitors are not allowed and should be removed from the room.

Browser

- In Google Chrome, in Settings / Privacy and security / Site settings, allow the following settings:

Settings to allow	Usage
Camera	Monitoring
Microphone	Monitoring
Notifications	Communication with supervisor/support agent
Javascript	Site operation
Images	QR code and other images display
Pop-up and redirects	Site operation

- We recommend that you temporarily disable your antivirus software, such as Norton, McAfee, or Avast.
- Please make sure to zoom out to 100% and maximize your testing window to be able to see the entire screen and the platform buttons.
- During the test and apart from Google Chrome, there should be no other app running in the background. Please close them all completely before the beginning of the test. For Mac users, make sure to close the app by clicking on "Quit" on the menu bar. When clicking on the red close button at the top right of your app, you will close the window, but the app remains open. This is crucial for the security of the test and failure to do so will cause a score invalidation.
- It is strictly forbidden to have subtitles on the screen. To disable them in Google Chrome, go to your "Settings" and to the "Accessibility" section. Use the slider to deactivate the "Live caption" option, which will then become greyed out.

Devices

- Speakers: external (wired but not bluetooth) or built into the computer. Headsets or earphones are not allowed. The use of headsets or earphones will cause an invalidation of your score.
- Microphone: external or built into the computer or the camera. It will be used by the proctor to control noise in the test room.
- Camera: external or built into the computer.

Network

- Computer: the test platform requires a connection as stable as possible. Therefore, we strongly recommend using an ethernet cable. Connection issues may interrupt the test monitoring and may result to score cancellation due to the technical failure.
 - Download Speed = Minimum 2 Mbps
 - Upload Speed = Minimum 2 Mbps
 - Ping less than 25 ms
- Be sure to disconnect all devices not required for the test from your network so as not to affect the test execution.

Step 2: Convocation and system check

You will receive a convocation email from ETS Global, with the following steps to be performed on the computer that will be used on the day of the test. It will not be possible to take the test on another computer. If you have not received the convocation email, please check your spam folder.

1. Download the ProctorExam Chrome plugin on the Apple or Google Store.
2. Complete the ProctorExam System Check, at least 48 hours before the test.

Step 3: Receiving the connection link

Once you have successfully completed this last configuration, you will receive another email "Your connection link to take the test."

Step 4: Taking the test

Testing environment requirements

Testing environment

- Make sure to be alone in a quiet, well-lit room.
- Choose a place where you will not be disturbed during the test.
- The test browser must be maximized for the entire duration of the test. You are not allowed to have any other application, folder, or webpage active on your computer unless you need to solve a technical issue and were authorised to do so.
- Your computer and keyboard should be on a desk or other tabletop surface.
- The tabletop and surrounding area should be clear of all items.
- No electronic devices other than your computer required for the test are allowed.
- Your computer should be plugged in to prevent battery depletion during testing.

Behaviour

- You should be sitting in a standard chair; you may not sit or lie on a bed, couch, or armchair.
- You must remain seated and on camera for the duration of the test.
- Breaks are not allowed.
- Food and drink are not allowed.
- Cigarettes or e-cigarettes are not allowed.
- Note taking in any form is not allowed.
- You are not permitted to make known or copy any part of the test. ETS and ETS Global reserve the right to take legal action and/or ban you from taking any test administered by ETS.

Clothing and accessories

- You will be monitored via camera by the proctor, therefore:
- Make sure your ears remain visible during the test, not covered by hair, a hat, or other items.
- Make sure your face is visible and not obscured by sunglasses or other accessories.
- Avoid wearing items such as jewellery, tie clips, cuff links, ornate clips, combs, barrettes, headbands, and other hair accessories.
- You must not wear/use electronic devices such as any type of watch (digital, smart, classic) and smart wearables.

Session timing:

30 min.

to verify your identity, to check the testing environment and to check your computer is correctly configured on the ProctorExam platform.

15 min.

to familiarise yourself with the test instructions and fill out the administrative questionnaire.

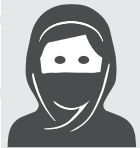

3. Taking the test in a centre or an institution

A. Test taker photo requirements

The TOEIC Public Program Tests deliver an “Official Score Report” that includes the test taker’s picture.

Test takers can upload their pictures when they register to the test. All photos are verified and in case of non-compliance, pictures are retaken by the Test Centre Administrator/Proctor on the day of the test.

The photos should meet the same requirements as passport or driver’s license photographs:

B. Admission form

For TOEIC Public Program sessions, on the day of the test, test takers will have to complete the admission form which will be provided either beforehand by email during the test registration process. If necessary, it can be printed on site by the test center's administration staff.

For TOEIC test sessions organized at your institution, candidates will be asked to sign an admission form, which will be provided on the day of the test.

This admission form is required to take the test and will be collected at the end of the test session by the test centre staff.

C. Test session procedures and regulations

The following procedures and regulations are valid during the entire test session, which begins when you are admitted to the test room and ends when you leave the test room:

- Friends or relatives who accompany you to the test centre will not be permitted to wait in the test centre or be in contact with you while you are taking the test. Except for ETS-authorized observers, visitors are not allowed in the testing room while testing is in progress.
- ID verification at the test centre may include photographing, video recording, signature comparison, or other forms of electronic ID or biometric confirmation. If you refuse to participate, you will not be permitted to test and you will forfeit the test. This is in addition to the requirement that you must present acceptable and valid ID.
- Other than ID, personal items are not allowed in the testing room. Before the test, you will receive instructions from test centre staff regarding where to deposit items such as mobile phones, all types of watches (connected, digital, classic), pagers, handbags, and study materials. Storage space is limited, so plan accordingly. You will not have access to your personal items during the test or any unscheduled break.
- Test centres assume no responsibility for test taker's personal belongings.
- The test administrator will assign you a seat.
- On occasion, weather conditions or other circumstances beyond the control of ETS or the test centre may require a delayed start or the rescheduling of your test. In the event that a technical problem at the test centre makes it necessary to cancel your test session or if it is later determined that your scores could not be reported, you will be offered the opportunity to retest free of charge or receive a full refund of the original test fee.
- No test taker will be admitted after test materials have been distributed.
- Using any aid in connection with the test is prohibited.
- There is no scheduled break during the TOEIC Listening and Reading test. If you must leave the testing room, you are required to give the supervisor your identification document(s) before you leave the room. You may not leave the immediate testing area of the testing room or the test centre building during the test or during any unscheduled break. Any lost time cannot be made up.

Report suspicious behaviour

For candidates taking the test within an institution, although tests are administered under strict supervision and security measures, testing irregularities may sometimes occur. Contact your local ETS Preferred Network office as soon as possible to report any observed behaviour that may lead to an invalid score. Examples include, but are not limited to:

- Copying from another test taker
- Taking the test for another person
- Having access to test questions before the test
- Providing answers to the test, including proctors and administrators
- Taking test questions or answers out of a testing room
- Using unauthorised electronic devices
- Using a fake ID
- Accessing or using notes

All information will remain strictly confidential.

4. Preparing to take the TOEIC tests

A. General advice and tips during the test

The TOEIC tests are not based on the content of any particular English course but rather on your English-language proficiency — your overall ability to use English. Improvement in proficiency may take some time and is generally achieved through a combination of practice and study. The TOEIC tests do not test business knowledge, and you are not required to know specialised business and technical vocabulary beyond what is used in everyday work activities.

Before taking the TOEIC tests, there are several things you can do to prepare for the test and improve your English proficiency:

- Become familiar with the test format. You can then focus your attention on the test questions themselves.
- Carefully review the information for testing online, the test directions and the sample questions on the following pages.
- Immerse yourself in the language as frequently as possible and in as many ways as possible if it has been some time since you have interacted with English. Reading, watching TV and videos, listening to recordings, taking an English course, and speaking with friends and colleagues are some of the ways to practice English.
- Since the Multistage Adaptive version test question types and skills assessed are the same as the full-length test, the same preparation materials can be used to prepare for the Multistage Adaptive version test.
- Web resources on etsglobal.org:
 - Take the TOEIC Test Level Projector for free, available at www.etsglobal.org. Try out the sample test questions.
 - Practice and learn using the TOEIC Official Learning and Preparation Course which proposes over 1,000 TOEIC practice test questions, or the various official manuals for the TOEIC test published by Hachette.
 - Read about scoring information.
 - Read the frequently asked questions (FAQs).

Tips

During the test:

- Work quickly and carefully.
- Do not spend too much time on any one question.
- Select only one answer for each question.
- You will receive credit only for answers marked in the circles on your screen or answer sheet. Your score will be based on the number of questions you answer correctly. There is no penalty for guessing.
- Try to answer every question to the best of your ability.
- You may not use note paper.
- Pay close attention to the timer during the Reading section of the test. In the Reading section you have to pace yourself, so work quickly and if you do not know the answer to a question, come back to it later.

B. Test format

The TOEIC tests measure a wide range of English language skills. The following sample questions illustrate the different formats you'll encounter and some points to watch out for when taking the TOEIC Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing tests.

The TOEIC Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing tests are divided into several parts, one for each skill tested. Each part is independent: performance in one part has no impact on the other parts.

We advise you to answer all the questions, as there is no penalty for wrong answers.

Section	Duration	Number of questions
 Listening Linear version	45 minutes	100
 Listening Multistage Adaptive version	25 minutes	Unit 1 : 25 Unit 2 : 20
 Speaking	20 minutes	11
 Reading Linear version	75 minutes	100
 Reading Multistage Adaptive version	37 minutes	Unit 1 : 25 Unit 2 : 20
 Writing	60 minutes	8
Total	~2h20	109

The Listening and Reading sections are available in linear and Multistage Adaptive versions. With the Multistage Adaptive versions, performance on Unit 1 determines which questions are received in Unit 2.

Note: the TOEIC Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing tests - with all four skills in one sitting - is only offered with the Multistage Adaptive versions of the Listening and Reading sections.

5. Contents and format of the tests

Listening Section

Structure

The Listening section tests how well you understand spoken English. You will be asked to answer questions based on a variety of statements, questions, conversations, and talks recorded in English.

LISTENING SECTION - LINEAR VERSION
Question Type	N° of Questions	Instructions
Photographs	6 questions	The instructions are not written, but are spoken. The candidate will hear three or four statements (a, b, c, or a, b, c, d) and will have to select the only correct answer among the statements. They will not appear on the screen and will be spoken only one time.
Question - Response	25 questions
Conversations	39 questions. 13 conversations with 3 questions each	The questions are both spoken and written. The candidate will be asked to answer questions about the conversation heard and will select the only correct answer among the different options (a, b, c, d).
Short Talks	30 questions. 10 talks with 3 questions each
Total	100 questions - 45 minutes

Hello,

Thanks for sending my order #3397—it arrived this morning. Unfortunately, the paint was not the one I had asked for. I had selected color SP 944 but received SP 945 (Ocean Waves). Could you send me the correct paint, along with additional samples that are close in color to SP 722? That sample worked well in my house; the others looked too green on my walls.

Thank you,

Arun Phan

Navigation buttons (Writing items 1 - 5)

Test takers can manually move to the next question if they complete a response for a TOEIC Writing test question before the response time expires.

Test takers have 8 minutes to enter their responses for TOEIC Writing test questions 1 - 5. Since these questions share a response time, test takers can move back and forth between their responses to questions 1 - 5 using the “Back” and “Next” buttons within the 8 minutes.

Writing question 5 has a “Back” button and a “Complete and Go to Next” button. If a test taker is satisfied with their responses for questions 1 - 5, they can click the “Complete and Go to Next” button to move to question 6. Once a test taker moves to question 6, they cannot return to their previous responses.

Note: For questions 1 - 4, test takers must use the Next button to move to the next response within the 8 minute response time. The “Complete and Go to Next” button is only available on the screen for question 5. Test takers will be moved to question 6 once the 8 minutes expire.

TOEIC Writing test questions 6, 7, and 8 are each timed individually. For questions 6 and 7, test takers can click the “Complete and Go to Next” button to move to the next question once they are satisfied with their response. Question 8 is the last TOEIC Writing test question. For question 8, test takers can click the “Complete and End Writing Test” button to complete the test once they are satisfied with their response. Once a test taker moves to the next question or ends the test, they cannot return to their previous response.

After the “Complete and Go to Next” or the “Complete and End Writing Test” button is clicked, a pop-up warning will appear to inform the test taker they cannot return to their previous response once they move to the next question or end the test. Test takers can click the “Back” button to return to their previous response. Test takers can click the Next” button to move to the next response.

The test will automatically move to the next question once the response time expires. Moving forward in the test before the response time expires is optional and has no impact on how the response is scored.

Interpreting Scores - Listening and Reading sections

The TOEIC Listening and Reading test scores you will receive are determined by the number of questions you answer correctly. There is no penalty for wrong answers. The number of correct responses on each section, Listening and Reading, is converted to a number on a scale of 5 to 495. The statistical procedure used to convert scores to a common scale for each section seeks to ensure that TOEIC Listening and Reading test scores obtained on different administration dates mean the same thing in terms of the level of English proficiency indicated.

If you were to take several versions of the test within a short period of time, you would obtain a number of scores that centre around an average value known as your “true” score. Two-thirds of the time, your Listening score would be within 25 points of your true score on the Listening section, and your Reading score would be within 25 points of your true score on the Reading section.

In addition to the section scaled scores, the TOEIC Listening and Reading Official Score Reports provide extra score information.

Scaled scores

The score report provides Listening, Reading, and Total scaled scores. The Total scaled score is derived from adding the two section scaled scores together.

Score proficiency descriptors

The score report provides a description of the English-language abilities typical of test takers scoring at around a particular scaled score level. On the score report, information on the strengths of the test taker is also provided. There are three possible descriptions for the Listening section and four possible descriptions for the Reading section. A complete table of these descriptions is available on the ETS website, <https://www.ets.org/pdfs/toeic/toeic-listening-reading-score-descriptors.pdf>. The proficiency descriptors were developed based on a Scaled Anchoring Study conducted at ETS in the summer of 2005. A copy of the Scaled Anchoring Study can be provided to you by ETS Global.

On the score report, information on the strengths of the test taker is also provided. A complete table of these descriptions is available on the ETS website, <https://www.ets.org/pdfs/toeic/toeic-speaking-writing-score-descriptors.pdf>. The proficiency descriptors were developed based on a Scaled Anchoring Study conducted at ETS in the summer of 2005. A copy of the Scaled Anchoring Study can be provided to you by ETS Global.

Test score data retention

Scores are used to measure a test taker’s English proficiency at the time that a test is administered. Because English-language skills may improve or decline over time, a score report will not be re-issued if two years have passed since taking the test. ETS and ETS Global does not require testing centres to retain test administration data beyond two years.

B. Score reliability and fairness

To ensure the reliability of all of the TOEIC Speaking and Writing tests, ETS adheres to a stringent 10-step process:

1. ETS recruits highly qualified applicants to be raters.
2. ETS reviews applicants' résumés and selects the best-qualified candidates to participate in rater training.
3. Rater candidates participate in extensive online training in which they train by scoring authentic responses.
4. Raters must qualify to score by first passing a certification test. Only certified raters may score ETS tests. This testing demonstrates that raters can score accurately.
5. Scoring leaders receive special training on difficult-to-score samples.
6. Raters use carefully developed rubrics and guidelines.
7. Raters must pass a calibration test before every scoring session. This testing ensures that raters are scoring accurately that day.
8. Scoring leaders monitor raters throughout the scoring process. If a rater is not scoring accurately, the scoring leader excludes the rater from scoring.
9. Scoring leaders and test developers use statistical reports to monitor rater performance during and after every scoring session.
10. Statisticians review and analyse all scoring results before scores are released.

Test fairness and score use

The ETS TOEIC Program and ETS Global have taken steps to ensure, to the extent possible, that tests and test scores are fair for all test takers, regardless of gender, age, nationality, and test taker industry background.

Remote Testing and Testing Integrity

In order to uphold the integrity of our testing process and ensure a fair and equitable testing environment for all candidates, ETS maintains a zero-tolerance policy for cheating and academic dishonesty in all forms. As such, even in the absence of direct evidence, when a preponderance of suspicious circumstances leads to a reasonable suspicion of cheating ETS reserves the right to take some or all of the following actions:

- Cancel scores.
- Ban candidates from testing.
- Require a second test at a test center within 3 months of the initial attempt to confirm the initial score.

Suspicious circumstances include but are not limited to:

- Inconsistent Performance:
 - Significant discrepancies with academic records or with performance on other tests.
- Behavioral Indicators:
 - Observed behaviors such as frequently glancing away from the screen during the test that suggest potential interactions with devices, materials, or physical persons.
- Technical Irregularities:
 - Unexplained technical anomalies, such as sudden loss of video or audio feeds, multiple logins, or other disruptions.
- Content Analysis:
 - Similarities between the candidate's responses and other candidate's responses or with external resources that indicate potential collusion or use of unauthorized materials.

The candidate has the right to appeal the decision and, in this case, will have to provide a written explanation within two and a half months of notification. ETS will then reevaluate all available information, including the candidate's explanation.

Release of test results

Local ETS Preferred Network offices are required to publish score reporting timelines so that test takers can determine, prior to registering for a public TOEIC test, when they may expect to receive their score certificate. Score certificates may be delayed if any type of security review is required. Test takers must be notified if their scores will be delayed or withheld. Depending on local policies, test takers may expect to receive their score certificate approximately 14 business days after the test administration.

Reliability

Reliability is defined as the proportion of observed score variance that is due to true score variance. It is an indicator of the extent to which test scores will be consistent across different conditions of administration and/or administration of alternate forms of a test. The type of reliability used in the TOEIC Listening and Reading test is reported as an internal consistency measure using the KR-20 reliability index. The KR-20 reliability index assesses the extent to which all items measure the same construct. The more homogeneous the test items, the more consistently the test takers will perform. The reliability of the TOEIC Listening and Reading section scores has been within the range from 0.86-0.89.

Validity

Primary evidence that the TOEIC tests test measure English- language proficiency comes first of all from the careful way in which language-testing experts design and assemble the test so as to include a variety of important English- language tasks. An additional kind of evidence that has proven useful in establishing the meaning, or validity, of TOEIC test scores has come from test takers themselves in the form of self-assessments of their own language skills. Self-assessments have been shown to be valid in a variety of contexts, especially in the assessment of language skills. TOEIC test scores have shown moderately strong correlations (.40s and .50s) with self-reports of their own ability to accomplish certain English-language tasks, based on aggregated values across a range of Listening, Reading and Writing tasks, illustrative examples of which are listed below:

Listening	Speaking
Understanding directions on how to get to a nearby location	Contact a company by phone to order an item
Taking a telephone message for a co-worker	Describe a friend's physical appearance
Understanding an extended debate on a complex topic	Respond against an expressed opinion

Reading	Writing
Reading office memoranda	Writing a list of items to take on a weekend trip
Reading English to translate text into one's own language	Writing a 5-page formal report on a project one worked on
Reading and understanding instructions	Writing a letter introducing oneself and describing qualifications

Standard Error of Measurement (SEM)

Errors of measurement occur when a test taker performs differently on one occasion or test form than on another for reasons that may or may not be related to the purpose of the test. A person may try harder, be more (or less) tired or anxious compared to some other occasion, have greater familiarity with the content of questions on one test form than on another test form, or simply guess more questions correctly on one occasion than on another.

These reasons for inconsistency are generally referred to as errors of measurement. The Standard Error of Measurement (SEM) is an estimate of average difference between true scores and obtained test scores, and is about 25 scaled score points for each of the TOEIC Listening and Reading sections. A test taker's true score could be estimated by ± 25 scaled score points around the test score obtained from one administration. For example, if you obtain a scaled score of 300 on the TOEIC Listening section, 68% of the time your true score will fluctuate between approximately 275 and 325.

Score review requests

If you feel that your scores are not an accurate reflection of your ability in English, you should contact your local ETS Preferred Network office within three months of the test date. The ETS Preferred Network office will rescore your answers and will give you a second score certificate. If a discrepancy is found between the first score certificate and the second one, the ETS Preferred Network office will pay for rescoring your answers.

However, if a discrepancy is not found, you may be charged a small fee for rescoring costs.

Plagiarism

ETS Global reserves the right to cancel the scores of test takers when, in their judgment, there is evidence that an essay or speaking response includes, for example, text or ideas that are substantially similar to that found in other TOEIC responses, or the quotation or paraphrasing, without attribution, of language or ideas from published and unpublished sources. Such responses do not reflect the independent speaking or compositional writing skills that the test seeks to measure.

C. Policy and guidelines for the use of TOEIC test scores

Introduction

These guidelines are designed to provide information about the appropriate use of TOEIC test scores for corporations or schools that use the scores in making hiring, evaluation, and career promotion decisions, as well as school-related decisions. They are also intended to protect test takers from unfair decisions that may result from inappropriate uses of scores. Adherence to the guidelines is important.

The TOEIC Program has a particular obligation to inform users of the appropriate uses of TOEIC test scores and to identify and try to rectify instances of misuse.

To this end, the following policies and guidelines are available to all TOEIC test takers, institutions, and organisations that are recipients of TOEIC test scores.

Policies

In recognition of their obligation to ensure the appropriate use of TOEIC scores, the TOEIC Program and its local ETS Preferred Network members developed policies designed to make Proof of Completion available only to approved recipients, to protect the confidentiality of test takers' scores, and to follow up on cases of possible misuse of scores. The policies are discussed below.

Confidentiality. TOEIC test scores whether for an individual or aggregated for an institution, are confidential and can be released only by authorisation of the individual or institution or by compulsion of legal process.

We recognise test takers' rights to privacy with regard to information that is stored in data or research files held by ETS or ETS Global and our responsibility to protect test takers from unauthorised disclosure of the information. For more information please visit www.ets.org/legal/privacy.

Encouragement of appropriate use and investigation of reported misuse. All organisational users of TOEIC scores have an obligation to use the scores in accordance with the guidelines that follow. Organisations have a responsibility to ensure that all individuals using TOEIC scores are aware of these guidelines and to monitor the use of the scores, correcting instances of misuse when they are identified. The TOEIC Program and local ETS Preferred Network members are available to assist institutions in resolving score-misuse issues.

Other score-related information

Score verification

Institutions have the ability to verify score reports sent directly to them by test takers. At the written request of the institution or agency, ETS will verify the official scores recorded for you within the last 2 years. ETS Global will also verify your score information at the request of any institution or agency that has a copy of your score report.

Guidelines

Use Multiple Criteria

Regardless of the decision to be made, multiple sources of information should be used to ensure fairness and to balance the limitations of any single measure of knowledge, skills, or abilities. These sources may include graduate or undergraduate grade point average, years of experience in the target position, and recommendations from past supervisors and colleagues. When used in conjunction with other criteria, TOEIC test scores can be a powerful tool in making employment- or school-related decisions.

Accept Only Official TOEIC Test Score Reports

The only official reports of TOEIC test scores are those issued by ETS or ETS Global. If an organisation administers a TOEIC test internally, with ETS knowledge and approval, it can obtain and keep score reports of that test. However, those scores are intended for the use of the institution sponsoring the administration and not intended for use by other entities. Scores obtained from other sources should not be accepted. If there is a question about the authenticity of an official score certificate, the question should be referred to ETS Global, who will then verify the accuracy of the scores and whether an official score certificate was issued.

Maintain Confidentiality of TOEIC test scores

All individuals who have access to TOEIC test scores should be aware of the confidential nature of the scores and agree to maintain their confidentiality. Policies should be developed and implemented to ensure that confidentiality is maintained.

Normally appropriate use and misuses of TOEIC test scores

The suitability of the TOEIC tests for a particular use should be explicitly examined before using test scores for that purpose. The list of appropriate uses of test scores that follows is based on the policies and guidelines outlined on pages 54–55. The list is meant to be illustrative, not exhaustive, in nature. There may be other appropriate uses of TOEIC test scores, but any uses other than those listed on this page should be discussed in advance with ETS Global to determine their appropriateness.

If a use other than those appropriate uses listed on this page is contemplated, it will be important for the user to validate the use of scores for that purpose. The TOEIC Program staff will provide advice on the design of such validity studies.

Appropriate use

Used along with other sources of information, and provided all applicable guidelines are followed, TOEIC test scores are suitable for the uses described below.

- Validate a student's English proficiency at the end of the academic course;
- Hiring of applicants for an open position within a corporation or organisation where workplace and everyday-life English is a required job skill
- Placement of applicants or candidates within a corporation or organisation where workplace and everyday-life English is a required job skill
- Promotion of candidates within a corporation or organisation where workplace and everyday-life English is a required job skill
- Measurement of workplace and everyday-life English proficiency levels of students in schools
- Measurement of individuals' progress in workplace and everyday life English proficiency levels over time

Misuse

Uses of the test other than those listed in the "Appropriate Use" section should be avoided unless authorised by ETS, ETS Global or the ETS Preferred Network Members.

French regulation - skills passport

ETS Global is required by French law to collect personal information from all holders of an active French social security number.

Information such as the name of birth, postal code and city of birth (if born in France), along with each candidate's CEFR level, will be transmitted to the 'Caisse des Dépôts et Consignations' for the establishment of a personal Skills Passport, as required by article L. 6113- 8 of the French labour code (from 2018).

The candidate must certify that the information provided at registration and as part of the testing procedure is accurate. Any inaccuracy will have to be rectified by ETS Global. Therefore, the candidate agrees to submit to any information verification request from ETS Global within seven (7) working days. ETS Global reserves the right to withhold test scores should the candidate fail to comply.

How much do the TOEIC tests cost?

Prices vary according to the test and options selected. For institutional programs, please contact your institution or log on to www.etsglobal.org for public program tests.

From what kind of contexts are the TOEIC tests questions drawn?

These are some examples of the settings, situations, and formats you may find in TOEIC test questions:

How often can I take the TOEIC tests?

TOEIC Institutional Program test sessions are scheduled by your institution at the dates and frequency of their choice (subject to ETS or ETS Global agreement). Please contact your institution for more information.

If you don't take the test with an institution, you can take it as many times as you like.

Repeat test takers

If you take another version of the TOEIC test, you will probably obtain slightly different scores from those you received the first time. A question like this usually arises, "How big of a difference do I need to get between two Listening scores or between two Reading scores before I can say that there is a real difference in my level of proficiency?" This question involves two independent tests given at two different times.

The error of measurement associated with the score obtained from one administration is called the Standard Error of Measurement (SEM). The errors of measurement associated with two administrations are called the Standard Error of Difference (SEdiff). The SEdiff for each of the TOEIC Listening and Reading sections is about 35 scaled score points. If a person began training with a Listening score of 300 and, following training, received a score of 340 on a different test form, has that test taker really improved in Listening or was this increase just a statistical fluke? To determine whether this was a true increase in the TOEIC score, the test taker would construct a band of ± 1 SEdiff, or ± 35 points, around the obtained scores. In this case, the test taker has truly improved because the post-training score fell outside of the SEdiff (i.e., 265–335). Using this band, we can say with 68% confidence that the test taker has truly increased his or her proficiency level between the two tests.

What score do I need to "pass" the TOEIC tests?

The TOEIC tests are not the kind of tests that you "pass" or "fail." Not every job or task requires the same level of English proficiency. Because it was developed specifically to meet the needs of the workplace, the TOEIC test measures many levels of ability. It enables test takers to demonstrate what they currently can accomplish in English. The single, continuous scale also makes it possible for learners to set attainable goals and to measure their progress as their English improves.

Many companies and academic institutions use the TOEIC tests to set their own score standards based on the levels of English necessary to carry out particular responsibilities. Your company or academic institutions may require employees/students to have a minimum TOEIC score due to the corresponding level of English that is needed on the job/academic curriculum.

Who uses the scores from the TOEIC tests?

Many leading companies, academic institutions, and language programs in France rely on the TOEIC Listening and Reading test as a fair, objective measure of English-language proficiency for students and business professionals. Individuals who take the test include:

- employees who work at hotels, hospitals, restaurants, international meetings, conventions, and sporting events and need to use English on a daily basis.
- individuals employed in managerial, sales, and technical positions in international business, commerce, and industry who use English to communicate in their jobs.
- future graduates and new entrants to the workforce.

Why are TOEIC tests items and answer keys not disclosed to the public?

TOEIC test items and answer keys are protected by copyright law as property of ETS, the copyright holder of the TOEIC test. For this reason, ETS's TOEIC test items and answer keys should not be disclosed or used for any purpose without written permission by ETS.
